“ On behalf of my sister (Mary Ann) and I, many thoughts and prayers are being sent to Sue, Mary Ellen & their families, as well as all the dear friends & neighbors & coworkers & staff that Elizabeth touched, kissed, hugged, spent time with, listened & supported, as she lived an abundant and prosperous full life here; now she is going to have a place in Heaven, where she will be with all her other loved ones!!!

May the Good Lord Bless her, and give guidance & support, to those that are grieving for her now. Elizabeth's life here, will never be forgotten!!! She touched too many people here and made a lasting impression to many of them!!!

May God Rest Her Blessed Soul in Heaven Now!!!

Much Love, Peace & Light to You All, in this time of deep sorrow!!!

“ Dear Mary Ellen & Susanne,

I am so very sorry for your loss. Your beautiful Mom lit up every room she entered and it was an absolute pleasure to be in her presence. My late Mom, Helen Corcoran O'Brien and your Mom were friends since childhood. Betty added an abundance of humor & wit to every gathering and there was never a shortage of laughter. You Mom was a wonderful woman who touched countless lives and her amazing spirit and goodness shall remain with you always. It is time to truly celebrate her life and from this day forward, the stars will forever shine brighter!

I sincerely hope that countless memories of love & laughter will carry you through this very difficult time. I also hope that this poem will offer you some comfort.

Softly Sprinkled Rain
By Greg O'Brien

A flower closes as it dances on a twilight breeze the clouds float by as the sun says goodnight and nothing seems changed as the glow fades from sight But this day is different because of one silenced voice a loved one has left us and we're faced with a choice Do we renew our faith and be thankful for time or simply grieve with questions and look for a sign For it can be easy to show anger or perhaps to feel blame but instead simply remember as you whisper their name Strive to remember the joy of the laughter once shared and to make them a promise that they'll always be here That you will include them in thought as each new day dawns whispering their name softly as each day rolls on For they will surely return this favor as they help ease your pain by opening flowers with gentle breezes and softly sprinkled rain “ Bette was simply the most delightful and beloved neighbor to my family since 1959. Always smiling, always ready to laugh. I loved babysitting her girls as a teen. I regret that my last two attempted visits to see her did not find her home. She was one very special lady. Love to Mary Ellen and Sue.

“ Much love to Sue and Mary Ellen. Your Mom was special to so many of us. I loved her. Felt close from elementary school as her student. She was amazing. A wonderful friend to my Mom and Dad. She was also so highly regarded in her field. The Egan family has always been so special. Love you.
