

Adalyn V. O'Connell

September 8, 1925 - May 20, 2006

O'Connell, Adalyn V.

Adalyn V. O'Connell died peacefully, at the Avon Nursing Facility, on May 20th, 2006. Born in Hartford on September 8, 1925, one of nine children. She married Charles J. O'Connell in 1944, and had three wonderful children during their 38 years together. She lived in many different states and travelled extensively overseas. She enjoyed living in and learning about different cultures. Her love for travel was superceded only by her passion for gardening and cooking, especially her fabulous spaghetti sauce. Adalyn loved language and literature and earned a degree in English from Central Connecticut State University. She was a volunteer Gray Lady as well as an avid reader and bridge player. She is survived by three children, Judy Hovey, of Tucson, AZ, Kathy Saczawa, Santa Clare, NM, Michael O'Connell, New Haven, CT, five grand children, and three great grandchildren. Friends are invited to attend a memorial service at Asylum Hill Congregational Church on Thursday May 25th at 2:00 p.m. Online messages of sympathy and remembrance may be made at www.molloyfuneralhome.com
