“ Dear beloved husband Bela--- you have left us without saying a final goodbye, you went for a walk and never returned. A few times we said a final farewell when you were going to difficult surgeries, you always came back to us and we were happy. This time we were not prepared that you live us forever, but that is what God wanted, and by this time you are in a better place, in heaven where you do not suffer anymore. You started life early after you father died in II World War. The last airstrike by the US force and he died, yet to escape communism in 1984 we have come as political immigrants to U.S, and we lived here for 25 years. We did our best to help our children, grandkids other family members and strangers. You started to work at the age of 11 and you did your best until your health allowed it. After being together for 52 years in good times and bad we had our happy and sad moments, your memories will be with us daily and we will never forget you. Your loving wife Veronika.##imported-begin##Veronika Bartis##imported-end##

“ Dear beloved father édesapa, The pain and the sorrow that I feel it is beyond words, the day before you left us forever I was happy to be with you even though we were at doctors, as many times and it would have taken you only a word and I would have taken you to the Hospital, but you did not complain of health, maybe even you did not now. Your memory will be with me and us as long as we live and I just hope that as time passes the pain and the sorrow eases. Your loving daughter Anna##imported-begin##Anna Batory##imported-end##
