

Beverly Brodrib Attardo

November 13, 1933 - June 12, 2015

Beverly M. Brodrib Attardo passed away after a long struggle with Dementia while a resident at Hughes Health and Rehabilitation in West Hartford, on June 12, 2015. She was born on November 13, 1933 in Hartford to Charles E. and Elizabeth Carlson Brodrib. Her brother, John R. Brodrib, predeceased her. Beverly was raised in Hartford and had many happy memories playing in Keney Park as a child. A 1951 graduate of Weaver High School, she enjoyed attending class reunions. Song and singing were second nature to her; she spoke fondly of choir at Emanuel Lutheran Church, Hartford, and singing in the Weaver High Glee Club. Her memory was phenomenal at carrying the old hymns and popular tunes of the decades. Beverly married Albert A. Attardo in June, 1955 and they settled in Bloomfield where she would live the rest of her life. She and Al had four children, Debra, Linda, Alan (deceased) and Pamela. She was co-leader for Pamela's Camp Fire Girls Troop and a long-time member (including past-president) of the Town and Country Garden Club in Bloomfield. She worked as a para-professional in the Bloomfield High School office from 1987 - 1999. She leaves behind her husband, her three daughters, sons-in-law Michael Paczkowski and William Tonidandel, her beloved grandchildren Emma, Sam, Andrew, Michael, Alana and Aidan, her sister-in-law Diana A. Darlington and numerous nieces and nephews. Private graveside services have been held.
