

Casimir "Cas" S. Smialowicz

December 26, 2025

Casimir S. Smialowicz, beloved husband, father, grandfather, and accomplished aeronautical engineer, passed away peacefully on December 26, 2025, at the age of 90. He was born on October 24, 1935, in Newark, New Jersey, where he spent his early years.

Casimir later made his home in Livingston, New Jersey, where he was a long-time resident and raised his family. He is survived by the love of his life, his wife Marlene Smialowicz, with whom he shared 67 years of marriage marked by enduring love, loyalty, and devotion. He is also survived by his children, Michelle Curley and Mark Smialowicz, his cherished grandchildren, Jackie, Matt, Luke, Parker, and Tess, and his devoted nephew, Robert Stefani, as well as other nieces and nephews.

Professionally, Casimir enjoyed a distinguished career as an aeronautical engineer and was a pioneer in the early use of software in aerospace engineering. He led large teams of engineers and contributed to some of the most sensitive and important defense programs in the United States, earning the trust and respect of both his colleagues and his country. His work reflected not only technical brilliance, but quiet patriotism and responsibility.

Outside of his professional life, Casimir embraced the world with curiosity and passion. He loved to travel, appreciated the beauty and discipline of classical music, and found great pleasure in reading classic novels. Skiing, however, was his greatest passion. He skied all over the world, but no place captured his heart like Vermont, which he loved above all others.

Casimir will be remembered for his sharp mind, steadfast devotion to his family, and the love he shared so freely with those closest to him. His legacy lives on through the family he loved so deeply and proudly.
