“Dave you were more than one of my best friends, I feel like we were brothers. We spent so much time together, that you were family more than anything. I will always miss you, there is so much in my life that immediately makes me think of you and the endless hours watching movies at your house, driving around and talking, or just hanging out outside your house and watching the night sky. I'll love you always and do my best to continue in this world those things you most cared for. May you be at peace now wherever you are my man.

*Love always and forever,
Andrew*
