

Hazel DiModugno

January 7, 2005

DIMODUGNO, Hazel Maloy DiModugno, RN, 85, the widow of Gaetano DiModugno, died Friday, January 7, 2005 at Hartford Hospital. Born in Griffin, GA, the daughter of the late William and May Phelps Maloy, she had lived in the Hartford area for over 57 years moving to West Hartford in 1968. Hazel was a graduate of Jackson Memorial Nursing School in Miami, FL. She was a Army veteran, serving as a nurse in England during World War II. In 1947 she joined the staff of Hartford Hospital and worked there until her retirement in 1980. She worked hard all her life and was devoted to her granddaughters. She is survived by her two sons, Philip A. DiModugno, Guy M. DiModugno and his wife, Lidia, and her granddaughters, Carla and Sarah all of West Hartford. Funeral services will be Tuesday Jan.11 with visitation from 4-7 p.m. at the Molloy Funeral Home, 906 Farmington Ave., West Hartford. Burial of her ashes will be private. Donations in her memory may be made to the Helen and Harry Gray Cancer Center Fund Development, 85 Retreat Ave. Hartford, CT 06106. Messages of sympathy and remembrances may be made at molloyfuneralhome.com

“ Guy, Philip, Sarah, Lidia and Carla,
We are so sorry we weren't able to get to the visitation today. We were afraid that with the icy roads we wouldn't be able to get back home. We are thinking of you all, and feel so lucky to have found Hazel. What a lovely lady!###imported-begin##The Cottinghams###imported-end##

“ Dear Sarah,
My deepest sympathy on the loss of your grandmother. From what I read about her in the paper, she was a pretty special lady. If you need help with anything, please feel free to come and talk to me at school.

“ Dear Family my deepest sympathy to all of you. I had the privilege of knowing and working with your beautiful mother. I can recall her reluctance to become the Head Nurse of South 3. With much persuasion by Mary Lou Condon and myself we assured her she would have no problem as she was well qualified for the position, and of course she was. She was well respected by all of the doctors and staff. Always soft spoken and gentle, a truly great lady. I will always remember her and I am glad to have known her.##imported-begin##Estelle Taylor##imported-end##
