

Jane Johnson Walker

June 23, 1919 - January 23, 2011

Jane Johnson Walker passed away on January 23, 2011, at St. Mary Home, West Hartford, Connecticut. Born in Zebulon, Georgia, on June 23, 1918, she graduated from the University of Georgia in 1940, where she was a proud sister of Pi Beta Phi. Jane served as a Red Cross volunteer during World War II. She met and married a young Air Force officer, Peter S. Walker, and they lived in many places in the course of his military career. Among her favorite homes were in the Boston area while Pete attended Harvard Business School, northern Virginia during his Pentagon tour, Wiesbaden, Germany, and their final station in the Los Angeles area. After Pete's retirement from the Air Force, they remained in Redondo Beach, California. Her husband predeceased her. Jane Walker loved traveling and arranging travel for others. She visited every continent except Antarctica, and enjoyed bringing mementos of her trips back with her. She was most recently a resident of The McAuley and a member of Asylum Hill Congregational Church. Jane is survived by a daughter, Katherine Walker Kitty Keane and her husband Jack, of West Hartford, Connecticut, and a son, Jeffrey S. Walker and his wife Margaret, of Magnolia, Texas, and three grandchildren, Susan C. Keane, Andrew P. Walker and John A. Keane. She was predeceased by a son, John A. Walker of Redondo Beach, California.
