“ Dear Laura,

I just read the obituary from yesterday's paper, and I am so sorry for your and your dad's loss. Your mother was a lovely person. I bet you have some of her best qualities in you. I remember how creative you were as a student and as a babysitter for my children when they were little.

The loss of a parent is one of the difficult challenges we face in life. I think of my mother often, and she died in 1991 I hope that you feel supported by loved ones during this difficult time of grief, and I know that you will take comfort in happy memories as the months and years pass.

Sincerely,

Simone Vrabel le Coutre
