

Lee Farr McCallum

May 23, 2013

Born in Hartford on June 20, 1930, Lee Farr McCallum died May 23, 2013 at Hartford Hospital. She was the second daughter of Kenneth Lee McCallum and Kathleen Farr McCallum. Schooled in West Hartford, she graduated from The Oxford School (now The Kingswood -Oxford School) and Smith College, Northampton, MA. While at Smith she spent her junior year in France. Upon graduation from college, she started her career in Washington, D.C. at The Social Science Research Council. Lee then moved to Madrid, Spain for two years where she was employed by the U.S. Navy. Returning to the States she moved to New York City and worked for a number of years at the United Nations. While in New York, Lee completed her Master's Degree in Library Science at Columbia University. In February of 1966 she began her 25 year career in the library at Trinity College, Hartford. She retired in 1991, ending her rewarding time at Trinity as Head of the Acquisitions Department. There followed many happy years with friends and family for this especially keen, qualified and generous lady. She leaves a sister, Patricia McCallum Dahill and her husband, Edwin M. Dahill, Jr., a niece Sara Dahill O'Connell and her husband John F. O'Connell Jr., three nephews; Edwin M. Dahill III and his wife Kathleen Renfro Dahill, Kenneth Lee McCallum Dahill and his wife Joanne Kehoe Dahill, and John Joseph T. Dahill and his wife Pamela Gadsden Dahill. She also leaves six grand-nieces and nephews.
