“ I will deeply miss my friend and mother-in-law of 25 years. We shared a common interest in our love of books, flowers, and little four legged creatures namely dogs. I will miss our letters and cards that kept us connected over the years. I will especially miss her kind and generous presence in my life...love always, Tanis Cordes

“ Although I regret that I'm unable to attend Lois's funeral, I was able to visit with her recently for a few days while she was in hospice care. It is a time spent with her that I will always value and cherish. Although she is my stepmother, I respect and regard Lois as my mother too. She has displayed her love and care for me in not just compassionate words but benevolent actions for over 40 years. I wanted to be sure that she heard and saw how much I deeply love her, value her selfless kindheartedness and how proud I am to be her son. I know that she did, so at least there was some closure in that achievement. It made saying goodbye a little less sorrowful. It was an honor and a privilege to spend the last few days of her life with her.
