

Marjorie M. Sabella

September 8, 1926 - October 5, 2010

Marjorie Sabella, of Bloomfield, CT died peacefully at her home surrounded by family, Tuesday, October 5th. Born September 8, 1926 in New York City, Marge met and married her childhood sweetheart Ken Sabella in 1948. She attended The Academy of Mount St. Ursula and Packard Business College. Before marrying, Marge worked as a secretary, modeled in NYC in the garment and photography industry. After they wed, the young couple worked together to establish their first food business, the Yum Yum restaurant next to "Margie's Dance Studio" where she taught dance. In later years, she was active in the Saint Thomas Women's group and served as a designer for Cirone Studios in Windsor, CT. She is survived by her six children and their spouses: Kenneth & Valerie Sabella, Brien & Linda Sabella, Casey & Patricia Sabella, Kerry & Sheila Sabella of Prospect, Duffy Sabella and Ben & Molly Kate Sabella Mosher, as well as their 23 grandchildren: Kristen Sabella, Jeremy Sabella, Tabitha Sabella, Stacie Sabella Mickleson, Meghan Sabella Gonda, Ryan Inman Ray, Sean Sabella, Caitlin Sabella, Brien Sabella, Hayley Sabella, CJ Sabella, Christian Sabella, Michael Sabella, Erin Mosher, Gabriel Sabella, Mariah Sabella, Maggie Mosher, Elijah Mosher, Lydia Mosher, Liam Mosher, Peter Mosher, Ruthie Mosher, and Silas Mosher, and 3 great grandchildren: Ava Ray, Iris Ray and Elsie Ray. "Grandmommy" to all, she loved each of them dearly. Per her wishes, there will be no calling hours. Instead, a mass to celebrate her life will occur Thursday, October 7th at The Church of St Timothy at 10 a.m., 1116 North Main Street, West Hartford, CT.