“ Sincerest sympathies to you all from your extended family here in Ireland. Though many of us never met Mary, we grew up hearing about her travels and random acts of kindness. A very particular memory stems back to her teenage years. At a time when very few parcels were delivered by post, twice annually one would arrive in Hacketstown, Co Carlow, Ireland containing a selection of children's comics! The Kavanagh family were the envy of the school as you can imagine!

As the years rolled by Mary welcomed various Irish relatives to her home - most particularly my mother- her niece, Brigid, and for over 40 years, they kept in contact by post.

Rest in Peace Mary xxx

From Brigid, Caroline, Jim and all your extended Irish relatives.
