“ Hi Mike,
I know you're not really reading this but instead can "feel" me typing these words. I loved our last conversation we had going through your plans for camping this summer and your trip to Ireland you were going to take this year. Sharing our Ireland trips and experiences was really great. You're definitely going to be missed here at Hartford Square. I'm going to miss your smiling face (no matter what you had going you were always smiling). So long for now dear friend.
