“ Nicole,

I'm so saddened of hearing of your father's passing. I first met Bob in 2004 at the Windsor site of Fleet Bank. I worked in a different department but we would make small talk each day as we waited for the coffee to brew. Then, one day, we discussed music. In fact, I mentioned that I had Elton John's CD, "Tumbleweed Connection", queued up in my CD player. To my wonderful surprise, he stated that had been a turntable favorite of his during his UHART days.

This would lead us to attend many a show over the years whether it be the symphony at UHART or Fall River or Brian Wilson's and Al Jardine's Christmas Concert at the Oakdale in Dec 2018. Then, there were the excursions we made to various museums. One that I still think of often is the Storm King Art Center in New York State, consisting of many sculptures in the great outdoors. We must have roamed those grounds for five hours.

What I treasure most about your father was how he appreciated the simple things in life. Nothing had to have all the bells and whistles. For me, Bob was a beautiful, natural tree without ornamentation. As we still try to process it all, I send you and your family my condolences.

“ I worked with this dear and intelligent gentleman for over 10 years. We were long distance work friends since I a. In Florida. No matter how busy Bob was or how full his plate, I never knew him to turn down a request for help. My prayers for peace and comfort are with all who loved him. Hazel Langenbach
